THREE VICTIMS OF AUTOMOBILES IN ENGLEWOOD

"Death Corner" at 64th and Loomis Scene of Two Fatalities

The corner of 64th st. and Loomis blvd. was the scene of two fatal automobile accidents within a period of thirty-six hours last week, an aged man and a boy being killed.

Cornelius P. Conway, 74 years old, 6643 Justine st., was the aged man. He was crossing Loomis st., from east to west, late Wednesday evening, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Sanow, 7641 Paulina st. Sanow took Conway to the Englewood hospital, where it was found that he had been badly bruised about the body and that four of his ribs were fractured. His advanced age prevented his recovery and he died early Friday morning.

A few hours later, the same morning, Robert M. Zender, 5 years old, 6342 Ada st., was struck and killed on the intersection by an automobile driven by Oscar Paschke, 6458 Laflin st. Paschke rushed his victim to the Englewood hospital with South Park Officer Dennis Mahoney, who was nearby when the accident occurred.

Both drivers were taken into custody by the police to await the findings of the coroner's juries at the inquests held Saturday. Charges of manslaughter were lodged against Sanow and his case was set for hearing in the Grand Crossing court Tuesday.

Paschke was held for the inquest into the boy's death but was not booked. Both he and Sanow were exonerated from criminal responsibility by the coroner's juries headed by Deputy Coroner Charles Fitzner.

While crossing from the east to west side of Racine ave. at 56th st. Monday noon Nicolina Guinta, 8 years old, 5540 Elizabeth st., was struck and killed by an automobile driven by William Jones, colored, 41, 6037 Racine ave.

Jones carried the girl to the German Deaconess hospital where staff physicians pronounced her dead. Jones was taken into custody by the Englewood police and held for the inquest Tuesday morning. An examination made of his car showed the brakes to be in good condition. The coroner's jury exonerated Jones and he was released.

MOVE IN SATURDAY; ARE ROBBED MONDAY

Entering through a rear window at the new home of the Chicago Armature Exchange, 5855 Halsted st., Monday evening, robbers used discrimination in selecting from the stock spark plugs, wires, castings, motors and any number of tools from among the boxes of materials that had been moved from the old location at 3604 Halsted st. Saturday.

Herman Olsen, W. P. Dettmer and W. J. Soderberg, owners of the exchange, left Chicago for a week-end vacation after moving the stock Saturday. Officers Nolan and Hazzard of the Englewood police station, on duty in the district, noticed a broken window in the back of the store Monday night and reported the condition to the firm Tuesday morning. Goods was strewn about on the floor in the store. Owners have been unable to estimate the amount of the loss on account of the confusion in which everything was left. There was no insurance to cover any of the loss.

PAYS GARAGE RENTAL WITH BOGUS CHECK

In answer to a for rent advertisement of Mrs. H. H. Lawrence, 6223 Loomis st., a young man appeared at her home Friday morning and arranged for the rental of the Lawrence garage, paying two months in advance. A check written on the First National Bank of Englewood for $20 was given, Mrs. Lawrence returning $8 cash as change, as the garage rents for $6 monthly.

Becoming worried after the man had left, Mrs. Lawrence called the bank and learned that a number of other bogus checks had been passed by "Ray Raymond," the name given by the supposed renter. Mrs. Lawrence describes the man as being about 30 years of age, having fair hair and complexion, and wearing a straw hat and dark palm beach suit.

SAFE BLOWERS MAKE ESCAPE SANS LOOT

After blowing open the safe of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company, 6245 Normal blvd., Friday evening burglars escaped before the arrival of police who were notified by neighbors in the vicinity. A check of the office funds showed that nothing had been taken, a quantity of money scattered over the floor indicating that the thieves had been frightened away and discarded their loot.

The same persons are believed to have blown the safe of the Lewis Laundries, 7031 Stewart ave., a week previous. In this case also no money was taken. A big charge of explosives used resulted in considerable damage to office furnishings in both instances.

Michael L. Igoe

"How the South Park Commissioners Can Best Serve Englewood" is the topic on which Michael Igoe, South Park commissioner and state representative, will address the Englewood Business Men's association Thursday noon, the first meeting of the organization after the summer recess.

Through the courtesy of Edward Beatty, manager of the National theater, members of the "Hurry Up" company now showing at that place on the Mutual Burlesque circuit will be present to provide entertainment. Music by the E. B. M. A. trio, Wall, Jensen, and Miller, will complete the program.

President Harry J. Mapp will preside. In honor of his recent return from a vacation trip through Virginia, his former home, Business Manager C. R. Edrington has ordered a "Virginia" dinner featuring "Virginia baked ham with muscatel sauce, a la bird's nest."

A large attendance is expected as plans will be outlined for the coming year. As in the past the meeting will be held at the College Cafe in the Englewood Business College building at 735 Englewood ave., beginning at 12:15 o'clock.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES INCREASE AT CLOSE OF CAMPING SEASON

FIELD EXECUTIVE SCHULTZ TO ATTEND CONFERENCE AT ESTES PARK, COLO.

With the closing of Camp Owasippe, attended by the largest representation of Southwest District Scouts ever sent out, activities are becoming numerous in Scouting circles. Field Executive G. H. Schultz, of the Southwest district, in his reports compiled this week, shows that 750 boys were in camp during the summer periods, exceeding last year's figures by 150.

Organization of the Southwest District council has already been started by Arthur R. Lowe, its president. A representative is being sought from each parent-teacher association, business and civic organization, and woman's club in the community to make the council a worth-while society. Its organization will be completed October 15.

Troops are being assigned territory for their work of promoting registration and voting. As a training in citizenship the boys will take part in this non-partisan campaign, distributing window placards reading, "We have registered. Have you?" On election day others will be given out announcing, "We have voted. Have you?" Literature will be passed out dealing with non-partisan activities in the campaign.

With General Leroy T. Stewart, head of the Boy Scouts of Chicago, G. B. Stephenson, Scout executive, and seven field executives, including Mr. Schultz, will leave Thursday for a conference at Estes Park, Colo. More than 28,000 men will attend the conclave, which will continue from September 6 to 15. Among the problems to be discussed one of great importance is that of holding the older boys' interest, and training them for leadership. Some means of cutting down the organization's "mortality and turnover" is to be evolved.

MAN SHOT WHO TRIES TO FIGHT BANDITS

Resisting two colored men who held him up shortly before midnight Saturday, Bernard Dillion, 5722 Peoria st., was shot and wounded. The robbery occurred in the rear of the Englewood Masonic temple, 64th and Green sts.

The robbers dragged Dillion into the alley as he passed by and commanded him to hold up his hands. He attempted to fight them off and one of them shot at him. The bullet struck him in the left side, between the lung and the shoulder socket. Then the bandits took $23 from his pocket and fled.

Dillion was taken to the German Deaconess hospital, where it is reported he is recovering rapidly.

A gang of five bandits, two colored and three white, held up Andrew Anderson, 1016 W. 59th st., near his home early Sunday morning and took $20 and his watch and chain. They made their escape in a large touring car.

WILL OBSERVE DEFENSE DAY AT PARKS HERE

Praise Given Movement by Englewood Legion Commander

Speaking over the radio and from the stage of every theater, members of the "Four Minute Men" speakers' organization that rendered invaluable service to the government during the World War, will tell of the "Meaning of America" on National Defense Day, September 12. Major Roland Hollock, representing Major General Harry C. Hale, commanding the sixth corps area, has been anxious that this wartime organization of speakers be revived to spread the gospel of defense and Frank M. Hallenbeck, 6106 Harvard ave., acting as a chairman of a committee in charge, has practically completed arrangements for such demonstrations.

Ogden, Hamilton, Sherman, as well as Washington and Jackson Parks will be scenes of district celebrations on the south side. Ten such centers have been decided upon by local committees and present plans provide for a program and patriotic speeches for children in the afternoon while in the evening a band concert and patriotic demonstrations will be furnished for the adults.

Mr. Hallenbeck has the names of all the members of the Four Minute Men's organization and he expects to revive this body to its wartime strength. Should it happen that not a sufficient number can be secured the depleted ranks will be filled with younger men who are compelling speakers. Every radio broadcasting station in Chicago has made provision on its program for Defense Day to provide for patriotic speeches and no refusal is expected from the president of the Motion Picture Exhibitors association whose permission is needed to place the speakers in theaters, Mr. Hallenbeck said.

Whistles, blowing from every factory in the city, will awaken residents of Chicago on the morning of Defense Day and formally start the demonstrations.

Local legionnaires are whole heartedly in favor of the movement, if the statement of Dr. S. Wall, commander of Englewood Post No. 61, made to an Economist representative before he left Saturday to attend the legion convention at Champaign, Ill., may be taken as an indication of the attitude of the legion body.

"I consider, or rather we consider, if I may be allowed to speak for the Englewood post, as ex-service men the proposed observance of National Defense day one of the finest things ever attempted by a country like ours," said Dr. Wall.

"Without any reserve whatever we deem it essential to the patriotic, economic and business welfare of our nation. The proof of this is simple. First, we should consider the fact that we have never been accused of 10—Central Edition—Howl not being a peace loving people. Second, we are just recovering from a decided advantage taken of us by the great war demon because we were peace loving. Third, thousands of white crosses dot the soil of the entire world in mute testimony of the grim necessity that called to the supreme sacrifice our beloved dead made.

"No group of men deplore more and hate with a more lasting hatred the terrible hell and carnage of war than do the ex-service men of the United States but should the call to service come, there will be no waiting.

"A mobilization of the military, patriotic bodies and citizenry of the good old U. S. A. on National Defense day is the best medicine and health restoring demonstration that could be conceived of. We need it, the coming generation needs it and our children's children will thank us for keeping alive the spark of Christian patriotism through this unusual period of lethargy and false issues."

SPINAL MENINGITIS FATAL TO MERCHANT

Spinal meningitis, with which he was stricken while at work in his dry goods store, proved fatal to David Marcus, aged 30 years, 7305 Halsted st., well known merchant of Auburn Park, whose death occurred at 11:20 o'clock Friday night at St. Luke's hospital. He had complained only of minor ills prior to the fatal attack.

ENGLEWOOD LEGION DELEGATES ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

ELECTION OF OFFICERS WEDNESDAY TO CLOSE BUSINESS SESSIONS

Fifteen representatives, besides several women of the Ladies' auxiliary of Englewood Post attended the state American Legion convention which opened Monday at Champaign, Ill. The local detail represents Englewood Post's color guard and bore the colors in Monday afternoon's parade. Two parties left by automobile carrying signs bearing the word Englewood in addition to the American Legion emblem illuminated in gold. The local ex-soldiers also carried an Englewood chevron on the left coat sleeve.

The Fourth District, of which Englewood is a part, made reservations for 500 men. In addition to the post cars and motor busses, the district used an auto load of bombs to lay down a noise barrage previous to entering the twin cities of Champaign and Urbana. A military band accompanied the delegation.

Dr. S. Wall, commander of the local post, with his wife, Chaplain Walter E. Troesch and Mrs. Troesch, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary Unit No. 61, made up the first party which drove to the convention, arriving Saturday afternoon. Richard Hacker, finance officer, drove the second car which left at noon Saturday. With him were Lieutenant Fred Elzinga, Sixth Army corps, Sergeant at Arms Mackholz, and G. W. Randle, post executive commander. The third party left over the Illinois Central railroad Saturday evening in charge of Adjutant Carl Klaesi. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ricketts and a number of federal employees of the post were included in this group.

Monday evening a reunion and "grand promenade" was held celebrating the sixth annual gathering of the legion for the department of Illinois. Dr. Wall, the local delegate, represented Englewood Post at Tuesday's business session. Election of officers will take place this afternoon, Wednesday, and a grand ball will close the three days' program this evening.

E. B. M. A. ASSURED ON 63RD ST. PAVING WEST OF CITY LIMITS

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF HIGHWAYS ANNOUNCES CONTRACT HAS BEEN LET

In response to letters sent by the Englewood Business Men's association to George A. Quinlan, superintendent of highways for Cook County, a communication has been received by E. H. Holtorff, chairman of the organization's public improvements committee, assuring him that the county's portion of W. 63rd st. will be improved. The contract has already been let for the paving of the highway between Archer ave. and the western city limits of Chicago. Work will start in the near future, Mr. Quinlan told an Economist reporter Tuesday.

The improvement which now appears to be a certainty leaves that portion of 63rd st. east of the city limits to the Panhandle tracks still badly in need of repairs. C. R. Edrington, business manager of the Englewood Business Men's association, has solicited the aid of Alderman Terence F. Moran, Thomas F. Byrne, John H. Lyle and Patrick J. Ryan to secure action in the matter of completing the improvement.

The letter to Mr. Holtorff, which was signed by Mr. Quinlan, reads:

"I have your letter concerning the paving of 63rd st., and I agree with you as to the importance of this street.

"I am pleased to report that the portion of the road which is under the jurisdiction of Cook county, which extends from Archer ave. on the west to the western city limits of Chicago on the east, has been ordered paved and the contract for this improvement has already been let, and I should very much like to see that portion lying within the city and therefore not under the jurisdiction of the county improved."

DIES WHILE WATCHING THEATRE PERFORMANCE

An initialed watch proved to be the means of identifying Frank J. Brown, 72, 5404 May st., who died of heart disease while watching a performance in the Englewood theatre, 726 W. 63rd st., Sunday night.

Brown slid to the floor from his seat during the performance and was carried from the theatre by those seated near by. The Engelwood police were summoned and they took him to the Englewood hospital, where a staff physician pronounced him dead. The body was then removed to Donovan's morgue, 901 W. 59th st.

No marks of identification were found other than a watch bearing the initials "F. J. B." Early the following morning James Brown, a son, with whom the dead man made his home, called the Englewood police and reported the failure of his father to return home. Police questioned Brown about the watch his father carried. The descriptions tallied, and Brown was sent to the morgue, where he identified the body.

No inquest was held, since the elder Brown had previously suffered from heart trouble, and the coroner's office issued a death certificate.

Economist Circulation Changes From Free to Paid, Effective Oct. 15

In order to give our readers a complete and comprehensive community newspaper we are, during the next few weeks, increasing the amount of space allotted to the present departments and adding new features to the paper that will, besides giving all of the news of Southtown, include entertaining and educational matter of great interest to all members of the family.

To do this and at the same time insure the delivery of the paper promptly to the proper party, it will be necessary for us to charge the small sum of ten cents a month, payable to the carriers, for the paper. The change becomes effective October 15.

After analyzing the results of several thousand interviews with as many readers, obtained by representatives of this paper during the past few months, we have come to the conclusion that our readers want a broader service from the paper and believe they (the readers) can profit by making the small expenditure required.

Thousands of readers were asked specific questions designed to bring out their individual opinions of the paper as it is issued at present, and of what improvements are desired.

The interest evinced in the Economist was amazing. While we have long been convinced that the paper, besides being relied upon as a chronicle of news happenings of the community, is being used extensively by the readers as a shopping guide or market directory for merchandise and service, the actual figures as compiled from the returns were surprising.

Hundreds of persons interviewed were liberal in their praise of the efficiency of the classified advertising columns, many of them citing instances of great savings accomplished through the use of our columns. Others were equally enthusiastic about the savings earned by following the display advertising of the local merchants. Definite figures showed that readers of the Southtown Economist followed the advertising in this paper with greater interest than they do in daily papers.

The change in method of distribution will be presented to individual readers by one of the hundred carriers now delivering the paper. Each carrier has a specific route which he serves each week, and September 12 these carriers will begin a systematic house-to-house canvass of their respective routes to take orders for the continuation of delivery at the 10-cent rate, effective with the October 15 issue.

These orders will be taken on the understanding that the patron may have delivery discontinued at any time. On this basis it will be absolutely necessary for us to publish the best possible paper in order to merit a worth-while circulation, and it forces the carrier to render 100 per cent service to his patrons.

ITALIANS IDENTIFY MEN WHO ROBBED THEM

Two confidence men who have victimized at least two Italians in the community recently were arrested by Officers Kelly and Cogger of the Englewood station Monday.

Frank Cambria, a shoe repairer, with a shop at 847 W. 59th st., and Narro Serro, 7000 Wood st., were the two victims, and their total loss was close to $2,500. In both cases the men worked the old "handkerchief game" after telling their victims that they wished to give money to charity but were strangers in the city and knew not where to go. Both Cambria and Serro believed the men and drew out their life savings to show the confidence men that they were thrifty and responsible.

Cambria was robbed nearly a month ago and Serro lost his money last Thursday. Serro learned where one of the men lived and directed the police to that neighborhood. Loitering at the corner of 30th st. and Michigan ave., they found John Venescola, 32, 1124 Polk st., and Andrew Barbaris, 2519 Indiana ave., who answered the discriptions given them by Serro. They were taken into custody and both Serro and Cambria identified them.

Two charges of confidence game were lodged against each of them and they were arraigned in the Grand Crossing court today, Wednesday.

MAN DROPS DEAD ON GOLF COURSE MONDAY

Leaving home in apparently perfect health Monday afternoon, W. H. Mines, 6658 Stewart ave., 55 years old, dropped dead at the thirteenth hole on the Evergreen Golf club course at 95th st. and Western ave. at 2:30 o'clock. Two years ago Mr. Mines, who had trouble with one side, took up golf, which gave relief to him. In his last game he suffered no illness until he reached the twelfth hole, where he complained of a pain in his side to one of the men on the course. At the thirteenth hole he collapsed, dying a few minutes later.

Mines was an engineer, connected with the Hoover & Mason company, Railway Exchange building. He was identified by papers in his pocket, and taken to the Walsh undertaking establishment, 2438 W. 63rd st., where the inquest was held Tuesday morning, at which time heart trouble was determined to be the cause for the death. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday. Interment will take place at Greenwood.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB HAS LABOR DAY PICNIC

Speeches and field events entertained several thousands of people who attended the Labor Day picnic of the 17th Ward Democratic Athletic club at 47th st. and California ave. Monday.

ENGLEWOOD LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE WILL OUTLINE YEAR'S WORK

BETTER GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION TO SPONSOR LOCAL MEET FOR THOMPSON

Friday evening the Englewood Law and Order league will meet at the home of its president, 6731 Perry ave. At that time the officers of the organization will tell of the progress being made and take up the question of securing investigators throughout the district. Outlines of the program to be followed throughout the coming fall and winter will be announced, making the session an important one.

While work was not so active during the vacation season, a number of raids were effected through the cooperation of D. L. Gilday, league president, with police officers. Friday and Saturday warrants were sworn out against soft drink parlors at 6618 and 6556 State st., and that of Peter Vandoni at 6758 State st., charging them with operating without licenses. Seven similar cases and one keeper of a disorderly house were brought into Grand Crossing court Thursday morning through the efforts of the league.

Mr. Gilday will preside Wednesday noon, September 10, at the meeting sponsored by the Better Government association for organization of the 17th ward in support of the candidacy of Hope Thompson for state's attorney. The local gathering at the Trinity Congregational church, 6401 Harvard ave., is one of thirty similar meetings to be held at the same time, 12.15 o'clock, in the city-wide movement to further the cause of the candidate.

Mr. Thompson is entering the political field independent of party affiliations. He has the support of the Better Government association, of which he is a member. That body will furnish speakers for the various ward meetings.

GIRL ATTORNEY GETS BROTHER'S FREEDOM

When Miss Catherine M. Brophy, young attorney at 1041 W. Garfield blvd., learned of her 16-year-old brother's arrest and subsequent trial for resisting an officer Wednesday evening, August 13, she set out for Grand Crossing court to plead Edward's case. Arriving after the boy had been fined $25 and costs she asked for a re-trial, which was held Friday morning.

She argued that her brother's case had not been fairly heard, and produced witnesses who testified that Detective Frank Mulhern had struck the boy while disregarding boulevard signals, thus starting the argument which resulted in the arrest. The fine of $25 and costs was revoked and the case dismissed as a result of the young Portia's arguments.

PREVENT JUNIOR HIGH STUDENTS FROM ENROLLING

West Englewood Lions Seek Injunction Against School Board

With the conviction that they were crusaders fighting for the educational welfare and personal safety of their children, parents and taxpayers of the district advanced upon the Harper school, 6520 Wood st., at the hour Tuesday morning when the doors were scheduled to open for the admission of junior high school and primary pupils only.

Boys and girls of the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, it had been announced by school authorities, would go to neighboring schools, but they didn't. They stayed right at Harper and their parents stayed with them.

While parents "held the fort" at the school, William K. Peak, president of the West Englewood Lions club, and others of the organization arranged through Attorney Arthur F. W. Siebel to present for their club a petition in the circuit court at 9:30 o'clock this morning, Wednesday, asking an injunction restraining the school board from transferring Harper pupils to other schools, and using the building as a junior high school. The petition will be presented either to Judge Rush or Judge Lewis. Signed affidavits of parents accompany it.

Have Police Guards

Confusion reigned on the grounds and in the building at Harper throughout the day, Tuesday. Teachers were unable to effect more than a small part of the registration supposed to have taken place. Police guards were in evidence, but no one offered violence.

No voice from the multitude that swarmed the yard and corridors of the school was raised in praise of the improvements in progress there during the summer months. Condemnation of the changes took the place of praise, for the work of remodeling is not yet complete and adds to the upset condition of the place, making the orderly assignment of pupils difficult.

If there was anyone present Tuesday who favored the change, he did not voice his sentiments.

Unless parents' request for a continuance of the old order at Harper is granted, the majority of them interviewed were of the opinion that their children would be safer at home than attending schools elsewhere. They hope to form an organization that will effectively oppose the Chicago school board.

"Keep to your grounds, we'll soon have an injunction restraining the board from excluding intermediate grade children from here," declared Mrs. H. F. Klopp, 6542 Lincoln st. Her children are no longer eligible for Harper school, but she has fought hard to keep the institution's old status.

Fear Accidents

"I've lived around here for seventeen years and I know many young householders bought homes in this vicinity just because they wanted their young children in school near home in order that they wouldn't be crossing the tracks to get to classes. Now their children are excluded unless they are in the primaries or old enough to take care of themselves," she explained.

People are justified in fearing accidents to children she believes in the face of the two deaths that occurred within thirty-six hours at 64th and Loomis sts. last week when a man of 72 and a child of 9, were killed by traffic.

"This situation has upset me so that I'm terribly nervous," confessed Mrs. Rose Rusky, 1811 W. 63rd st., who came to the school to see if she could have any influence in keeping her daughter, Elida, aged 10, a pupil at Harper. "Think of the danger she will be in going each day to a strange school across car tracks."

There seemed to be plenty of fathers and mothers inside the building who were of the same mind. "I have four children between 4 and 10 years who should be taken into this school in time," said F. R. Bauer, 6640 Lincoln st. Unless I can have them educated near their home, I shall withdraw those from school who should be pupils here this fall," he said.

Why Choose Harper?

"Why could Earle school not be chosen as the junior high school? It's a new school and the shift could have been made in that territory easier than in the older Harper district," he suggested. "Feeling here runs so high that a private school certainly would flourish in the neighborhood."

"Here I am with two boys of school age on my hands and I don't know what to do with them," lamented Charles Schonauer, 6625 Honore st. "One has marks all above 85 on his report card from Marinette, Wis., and has been set back a whole year because we entered him here at Harper. That is due to the pandemonium under the new system, but I don't intend that Roswald will suffer for it. He is 7 and Russell, his brother, is a few years older, yet must be sent to an entirely different school. I'll send them back to Marinette in preference."

Breaking through the restless crowd, Mrs. M. E. Rabideau, 6424 Wood st., approached the Southtown Economist reporter. "Here," she said, "Take this piece of paper. It has on it my name and address. I want to hear witness

Former pupils of Mrs. John T. Read, 507 W. 62nd st., were invited to an informal musical recital, which was held at the home studio Wednesday evening. Contrary to the usual custom of Mrs. Read's classes, the monthly vocal recital is given at the opening of the fall season instead of one month after work has been begun. The new plan is to encourage those who studied late in the spring and have selections prepared for recital work. Mrs. Mildred Petersen, 4940 Ellis ave., was the accompanist.

HARPER JUNIOR HIGH

What will be the outcome of the opposition parents of children in the Harper school district are offering to plans of the board of education to make that institution into a junior high school is undetermined at the time this is written. Can a judge be found who will grant the West Englewood Lions club an injunction against the Chicago board of education? Will the parents who do not want their children transferred to neighboring schools persist in their obstruction of Principal Harrower's efforts to obey orders and get junior high classes under way? If they do, will a demonstration such as Tuesday's be continued a second or a third day without ill feeling finding other expression than words? And if the injunction should be granted, will residents of Sabin, Herzl, Parker, and Phillips districts also object and block efforts at securing, in Chicago, a test of the junior high school system? It is not our purpose to make a prediction.

Public schools are, first and foremost, servants of the public. In rural districts it is decided, at the annual "school meeting," participated in by every patron who wishes to attend, how much is to be paid the teacher, what further expenses are to be allowed, and a tax voted to cover the sum. The men and women who are to constitute the school board are chosen and often many details of management are entered into.

In Chicago, because a "school meeting" of a million or two would be a rather unwieldly proposition, other methods must be employed. The Chicago board of education is appointed to handle details of school management. Perhaps the positions should be elective. We're rather inclined to think that they should. But anyway, to secure coordination, our schools must be handled by one central body. The scheme may result in dissatisfaction to patrons of some schools—perhaps even rank injustice to them. But without the central organization—if each district were left to manage its school as it saw fit—the situation would probably be infinitely worse.

The interest of Harper school children's parents in their welfare is highly commendable. Street crossing hazards are not fantasies. Scarcely a week passes but what some child is injured in the district, either as a result of his own or a driver's carelessness. Undoubtedly it would have been better if additional buildings could have been provided for the junior highs, and present grade schools left undisturbed. But are we asking something of the board of education that, with the facilities at their command, they cannot give?

We understand that members of the West Englewood Lions club, who are seeking an injunction to prevent the transfer of middle grade students from the Harper school, have expressed themselves as not being opposed to the junior high school system. They are merely opposed to subjecting children to conditions that will prevail in the Harper district if the system is tried out there. For ourselves, we believe thoroughly in the junior high system and regret to see an attempt to make it a part of the Chicago educational system meet with difficulties. Which is not to say that Harper patrons are not justified in the stand they have taken. Undoubtedly, Harper patrons are sincere in their convictions, and if they do not, when the matter has been considered from all angles, want an intermediate school in their district it should not be forced upon them.

But are they taking sufficiently into consideration the effect their demonstration will have on the morale of the school? Hundreds of children Tuesday watched their parents oppose constituted authority. When the matter is settled parents, as well as teachers, must deal with the spirit of lawlessness which Tuesday's occurrences will have engendered in the children. Won't the near riot staged at the school have more evil results than good?

WE ARE GRATEFUL

"A prophet is not without honor save in his own country." In like manner, praise from a fellow newspaper, contemporary and, although each serves a different section of the city, a rival at least in the sense that each organization is striving for superiority in the community weekly field, is rare indeed. Consequently, the generous tribute, appearing last week in The Comet, an east side weekly which, although young, has accomplished much and established an enviable reputation for its fearless and constructive editorial policy, more than pleased us, and we are grateful. The editorial, entitled "An Added Service," read as follows:

"In its issue of last week The Southtown Economist announces it is to install a modern radio broadcasting station and will be on the air by December.

"We congratulate The Southtown Economist upon this, the latest of many laudable services rendered to the people of the south side.

"It is characteristic of this fine newspaper and the public spirited men who guide its destiny that their profits should be used for the benefit and pleasure of the many, rather than be placed in private bank accounts.

"We have long admired The Southtown Economist for its honesty, its initiative, its fairness and its ever increasing success.

"This old, established newspaper has been the fairy godmother to its younger, struggling competitors. The Comet gratefully acknowledges many favors, and the ever-ready, generous, unselfish fraternalism extended on numerous occasions by our newsy neighbor to the west.

"We felicitate The Southtown Economist—'the square newspaper'—upon its proposed radio station, and wish it the great success which it deserves."

GOOD OLD SEPTEMBER

Always glad, in a way, when September comes. Indication of a bit of sentimentality still lurking in our makeup somewhere, maybe. But don't you feel a certain quickening of something or other when you see the kiddies trudging off to school? Sort of makes you remember how much fun it was to stock up with pencils and a "tablet"—or, if you were of the preceding generation, or lived amid rural surroundings, you bought a brand new slate and sponge. And, gee, wasn't it fun to go to school the first day and size up the new teacher? Then, too, Labor Day over, all the vacationers come back to town. Nice, this thing of getting away for a couple of weeks or a couple of months, depending on the condition of your purse, up in the woods or out in the mountains. Nice to camp out, and loaf, and get all dirty and snoburned. But it's nice to get back, too, where there's a certain regard for the conventions. And for some of us fellows who spent most of the summer in town. Rather lonesome. Go into this or that man's office. "He's up in Wisconsin for a couple of weeks." Or, "Mr. So-and-so is touring the west. Won't be back until the first of the month." Or telephone a friend. Same old story. But now it's "Hello, old man! How are you? Great to see you again!" And then, there's something going on all the time again. Business is picking up—new shows in town, and the wife is talking about some affair she is going to give at the house right soon now. Awful bore, but, oh, well—good old September!

MRS. SCHULTZ GUEST OF THE NED WAYBURNS

Mrs. Ernie Schultz, of the Englewood Dancing Academy, who is in New York studying with leading dancing masters of that city, in preparation for the opening of the fall season at the local school, has written her husband here of being entertained, on August 20, at the beautiful home at Bayside, L. I., of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Wayburn.

Ned Wayburn, who has sometimes been called "king of producers," is associated with Flo Ziegfeld as stage director in the annual "Follies." He was, last week, in attendance at the forty-first annual convention of the American National Association of Dancing Masters at the Drake hotel.

Mrs. Schultz was also entertained by the Newsomes, who are also well known. She expects to return to Chicago about September 15.

It Takes 40 Years to Build a Cemetery
Chicago's Most Beautiful Cemetery

Mount Greenwood
Is 45 Years Old

No commissions on lot sales paid to any person.

Real perpetual care—an honest contract—care funds in trust company's hands.

A properly developed cemetery—not a paper cemetery. Seven and one-half miles of sewers and drains prevent any possibility of wet graves or overflowed lots; 4¼ miles of water pipe connecting with the Chicago water system. Every lot in the cemetery properly watered during the dry season.

Lot prices moderate. Should be investigated by everyone wishing to secure a cemetery lot. Such investigation may save the mistake of paying as much or more for an unfinished lot in an undeveloped cemetery as would secure a lot in beautiful Mount Greenwood.

Any time Mr. Meiner of J. B. Meiner & Son, Inc., tells me to put in my winter's coal supply I put it in in a hurry.

Mr. Meiner has been in the coal business for the last twenty-nine years, with such experience it puts him in a position to give pretty good advice. He also told me to tell my friends to be careful in buying their coal on account there is so much cheap coal on the market look O. K., but is very these days that might look O. K., but is very dear in the long run on account of the trouble to keep up heat, lots of clinkers and lots of ash to carry out. That's why I tell my friends to buy their coal at J. B. Meiner & Son, Inc., 338 W. 71st St. They give you good coal, a square deal whether old or new customers. The prices are right in consistence with the quality of the coal. Call them up—Stewart 0070.

BEAUTY WHEN TRAVELING

At this time of the year its almost every woman is going somewhere for this is the recreation period - and most people are taking trip which they have planned for all year. But how many are wisely considering their health and beauty needs?

One's health should receive first consideration and unless a journey is being made for health alone or to some health resort, it should not be undertaken until the physical condition is such that the object of traveling, business education or pleasure, can be fully accomplished. Even so, the system should be fortified, that the possibility of even temporary indisposition may be reduced to a minimum.

Several days or a week before, all foods that are difficult of digestion and assimilation should be reduced or even cut out of the diet entirely, and this confined to bland substances that nourish without clogging the alimentary tract.

Tea, coffee and alcoholic beverages should be eliminated as they have a tendency to make one nervous. Every morning upon arising the stomach should be flushed with one pint hot water, so hot that it must be sipped with a spoon. Into the last half of this, which by the time it has been reached is sufficiently cooled, a heaping teaspoon or more of effervescent sodium phosphate should be added and the drink swallowed while it is very hot - for its action on the liver.

Visits to the dentist, the oculist and the chiropodist are in order also. If one wishes to be carefree and thoroughly enjoy her trip, these important matters should not be overlooked. No journey can be enjoyable if the feet have not been subjected to the most impulous care. Corns, callouses and bunions are absolute hindrances to bodily comfort and mental ease, and should preferably be removed by a professional as this insures a greater length of freedom from foot troubles. The feet show changes in temperature. They are the barometers of one's physical condition, when traveling in hot cars or after being seated for hours in a cramped position, they become engorged with the impeded circulation and so require much forethought.

Fitted shoes should be worn that can be adjusted to the size of the feet, shoes that fit anatomically, for those willing members carry the burden of the body and have troubles enough of their own, without the torture of inappropriate footwear. Foot powders are soothing and should be used freely especially in hot weather.

Bobbed hair has removed our most trying difficulties, especially when traveling—of course we are not all bobbed and few of us have naturally wavy hair. Those who have a natural curl are always laviable and at no time more so than when traveling. If you can afford a permanent wave, this is the time to have it for the relief and freedom experienced on your journey will more than repay its cost—if need be, economize in another way.

Do not forget a liberal supply of cleansing cream. It is the only agent that effectually removes train grime and keeps the skin in good condition as well.

Train sickness is very similar to sea sickness and these highly unpleasant conditions are often due to eye strain. Great care should be taken to avoid indigestion and not to overeat of rich foods for any disturbance of this kind is bound to create headaches and the like that not only destroy one's physical well being but play havoc with what good looks one possesses.

ENGLEWOOD COPS DEFEAT AUSTIN FOR CITY TITLE

Another Change in Final Play Gives Title to Locals

Englewood won the city championship in the Police Baseball league Wednesday at Neisen's Park by nosing out Austin, 16 to 15. Another change in the plan of playing off the finals gave the title to the local squad although a former rearrangement of the schedule had made it necessary to meet the Shakespeare ave. cops once more before the championship was decided. Because of the interference another game would give to final arrangements for the police field meet the last change was made. The final standing left Englewood with a record of two wins and one defeat, Shakespeare ave. with a record of one victory and one upset and Austin, one win and two trimmings.

The game ended with a sensational play at the home plate in which Zapolsky, who had played a wonderful game throughout, put out O'Brien of Austin on a throw from John Barrett. Had O'Brien scored the count would have been knotted.

Like most police games the play was a free hitting affair and both teams counted more runs than hits due to loose playing and frequent errors. Dillenberg went the full route for Englewood and the three hits he collected figured largely in the scoring.

Cline started on the mound for Austin but after his foes combed twelve runs off his delivery in the first three sessions he was sent to cover second and Murphy took his place. Murphy proved a better choice and in the five innings he faced Englewood only four runs were scored, three of which came in the seventh round.

ARROWS TRIM BLACK HAWKS, SPARTAN A. C.

Ace Arrows won both ends of a double header Labor Day when they nosed out the Spartan A. C. nine, 7 to 6, in the morning and then swamped the Black Hawks, 10 to 3, in an afternoon game. Hamilton park was the scene of both contests.

Howe's homer in the tenth inning won the first game for the Arrows. After five runs, gained on six hits and a walk in the first inning, the Arrows were held scoreless while the Spartans went to the front. In the seventh the Arrows deadlocked the score and for two innings both teams fought without scoring. Then Howe broke the tie.

Every member of the Arrows nine got at least one hit, with the exception of Morrey, and almost everyone scored to romp over the Black Hawks. The Arrows made their hits mean runs while the Hawks were left stranded on the bases.

The Arrows were trimmed, 13 to 7, at Washington park Sunday by the Drexel A. C.

AUBURN EAGLES NOSE OUT WILLIAMS BOOSTERS

With DeChatelets allowing only three scattered hits the Auburn Eagles nosed out the Williams Boosters to the tune of 2 to 1 at Ogden park Sunday. McGeoghegan's hit with two mates on base counted both of the winners' runs.

Policemen from the north and west sides will have to show a lot of action to beat these coppers from south side stations who are practicing at Sherman Park for the pushball game which is slated as one of the features of the third annual police field and track meet at the new Grant Park stadium next Saturday and Sunday.

VICTORY OVER INDIANS GIVES EAGLES RECORD OF FIFTEEN STRAIGHT

ERRORS IN RAIN SUNDAY ASSIST LOSERS TO COUNT THREE RUNS

As a result of their 12 to 8 triumph over the Washington Park Indians at Washington park, Sunday, the Stewart Eagles ran their string of victories to fifteen straight.

Anksorus, of the Eagles, pitched a good game with the exception of the ninth inning, when the Indians turned in a three run rally before a single out was made. Three errors in a row put Anksorus in a hole and momentarily he blew up. Then Debock singled to fill the sacks and Devine cleaned the bases with a double. This flurry threatened to overcome the Eagles' large lead, but O'Hara stopped things when he ran back and pulled down Devlin's long fly.

That steadied Anksorus and the next two men were out easily. This last frame was played in a drizzling rain and the unwelcome visit of Jupiter Pluvius was largely responsible for the errors.

Out of the Rough

By Fred S. Clisbee

The shortest cut toward improving your game, and probably the most essential point, is knowing your stroke. You first have to know what it does and the course it travels, both in the up swing and the down hit to the ball. Any amount of time or effort spent toward this goal will more than repay you. There are many ways of finding this out but the quickest is to put yourself under observation of an experienced instructor. He will not only advise you clearly but give you an understanding of the faultiness, where it lies, and how best to correct it.

You can do some checking up yourself, but generally, trying to watch the stroke while making it, causes the swing to become unnatural and cramped and makes it carry in a somewhat different course than it ordinarily would.

I had a man the other day at my golf school who said he always got a long shot but it sliced off over into the rough. He couldn't understand how this particular thing happened. I took a club and, laying a ball down, showed him the club head carrying outside the line of flight and as it got closer to the ball the stroke caused the head to go to the left, cutting across the ball.

No, he didn't do anything like that. He was sure of it. So I put another ball back of that ball about 10 inches and on a line with the outside edge. This placed the second ball a little farther from him and about 10 inches back of the ball he was to hit. This will allow the club head to pass the second ball on the back swing.

Now, I told him he couldn't make his swing addressing the first ball without the club head hitting the second ball. He tried but fully believed I was crazy to think that he couldn't hit that second ball unless he tried to. But he did, and the club never touched the ball he was aiming at. The next time in trying not to, he hit it even more so. Then I showed him how it was done and after a half hour's practice he had it down perfectly. His slice is gone and he has learned something about his swing that will always aid him whenever he gets to slicing again.

ST. STEPHAN'S FORFEIT GIVES HOPE TITLE

Forfeiture of their game by St. Stephans gave Hope Lutherans the championship in the south section of the Lutheran league Sunday. The game was scheduled for Ogden park, but St. Stephans, after losing a decision to the locals on a protest, disbanded. Hope has one more game on its schedule, but the result cannot influence the league standing.

This game is with Golgotha and will be the feature of the Hope church's gala day outing at the 87th st. forest preserve Sunday. Finals for the city championship will start September 21 and league officials will attempt to procure Cubs park for the game.

Prior to the start of the finals Hope is planning to engage in several practice tilts.

LOCAL TENNIS TEAMS COMPETE FOR CUP SAT.

Ogden Park Tennis club members and local players will compete for the Willard loving cup in the local tournament, which will be held on the park courts Saturday afternoon. Play will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Defaults will be made Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. This tournament, which was planned for August 23, was postponed on account of the South Parks tournament, which was played at Ogden park on that date. The prize is a gift of W. B. Willard, a club member.

A woman's tournament will also be run the same day at Ogden park.

Miss Ruth Willard of Ogden park placed in the finals of the South Parks' tennis tournament at Davis square Saturday. She went into the third round of the junior tournament at Skokie this year, where she played girls much older than herself.

GARFIELD CLUB WINS CUP IN KIWANIS MEET

Dr. Hospers Only Local Entry to Carry Off Prize

Garfield Blvd. club won the large silver cup in the second annual golf tournament held for the Kiwanis clubs of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa district under the auspices of the Englewood club at the Oak Hills Country club Wednesday of last week.

The team composed of Harlow, Jackson, Hyland and Dr. Long scored ten points out of possible twelve and their total score was 396. The large cup, which is donated by the Englewood club, must be won for three years before it becomes the permanent possession of the club, and the victory of Garfield Blvd. ties them with Valparaiso in the race for permanent honors.

Four man low gross honors went to the Woodlawn club with a score of 361. Charles Kinnucan, A. H. Heald, Minor, and S. T. Hammond composed the quartet. Kinnucan's play was the main factor in placing his team and he took low gross individual honors with a score of 81.

Dr. Frank Hospers, a member of the Englewood club, turned in a card of 87 and won second low gross honors. Gum, a member of the Hyde Park club, won a prize for turning in the the highest gross score, 143.

Valparaiso made a strong bid for the honors again this year and had a strong entry out but their only prize was won by Fred Applegate. Applegate won the prize for having the lowest score on a single hole by turning a deuce on the 185-yard seventh hole.

The entry of 142 doubled that of last year. Valparaiso entered twenty men and headed the list as Englewood did not have out as many of its own men as expected. Eleven clubs entered teams in play for the cup.

Presentations of the prizes of golf equipment were made at a dinner in the evening. Fred C. Rathje, past president of the Englewood club made the address of welcome and Fred Applegate, representing the Valparaiso club, returned the trophy to William G. Tegtmeier, president of the Englewood club. Wendell H. Williams, chairman of the sports and pastimes committee of the sponsoring club, who conducted the meet, made the presentation of the prizes.

FOUR TIE FOR FIRST IN LARAMIE GOLF MEET

Four members of the Laramie Golf club, 63rd st. and Laramie ave., tied for first in the three day blind bogey tournament held over the week-end. The number drawn was 68 and A. J. Ryan, W. Odenkirk, G. E. Eason and J. E. Murphy, president of the club, all turned in the same score. First prize would have been $52 worth of golfing equipment but due to the tie the four were forced to content themselves with $13 worth of golf balls. Entries in the tournament numbered 142.

Scores of the members are being taken for the club championship tournament to be held sometime later in the month.

VETERAN RIDER WINS ANNUAL CYCLE DERBY

After twenty-one years of cycling, Frank Orr, veteran rider, proved Monday that he had lost neither skill nor speed with the passage of years and won first place for Ogden park in the annual Labor Day bicycle derby at Humboldt park in competition with younger riders from this part of the country.

Placing fifth in the race was Harry Locke of Ogden. Other entries for that park were Ed Jonas, Henry Nolte, Charlie Pass, W. H. Gratjohn, and George Young. The latter is the former champion rider of Canada.

Growing interest in bicycle riding has been evident at Ogden park recently and a meeting was arranged for Friday evening at the field house, to which cycle enthusiasts were invited. Plans were made at that time for the riders' activities for the remainder of the year.

There will be a specially sanctioned race sometime in October. Ogden park cyclists expect to make several riding excursions in a group during the remainder of the season. Members hope to continue activities of the cycle club next year.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Daniel Russell's tug-of-war team from Ogden park won the South Park championship at the final contest of the parks, which was held at Ogden park last Saturday afternoon. Sergeant Michael J. Mulvey, Sergeant Frank Corcoran, with Officers Michael Whalen, Henry Pinck and Charles O'Hara, make up the team. It is one of the strongest tug-of-war teams that the parks have ever had. Cornell square placed second, and Palmer park third, in Saturday's meet.

The Ogden park team had previously defeated the Davis square team, former South Park champions in the twentieth anniversary celebration at Davis square Friday evening, August 15.

REACH FIFTH ROUND IN HAMILTON PARK TENNIS TOURNAMENT

LEJECK SPRINGS SURPRISE BY DEFEATING RALPH RICE

Charles Lejeck sprang a surprise on followers of the Hamilton Park Tennis club's eighth annual Labor Day tournament by defeating Ralph Rice Monday and going into the fifth round along with John Rolley, last year's singles champion. Rice won the first set, 6-3, but was trimmed in the two deciding sets, 6-4, 6-1.

Rice was favored, as he had an easy time in eliminating Alex Buynitzky, a strong contender, to the tune of 6-1, 6-0, while his opponent was given a hard run in the fourth round before he could do away with Ray Peecher. Rice's adherents blame his defeat upon the fact that he was doing too much by playing in the Suburban championship meet at Maywood in addition to trying to win honors at Hamilton. Hoyt Parmalee, Robert Brown, Art Kaiser, William Kinsel and Harry Holbrook all survived the fourth round.

ATTORNEYS' ROW ENDS PEACEFULLY THURSDAY

Court attaches at Grand Crossing suffered a disappointment Thursday morning when Assistant States Attorney Otto W. Christopher, whose fistic battle with Max Korshak, an attorney, had given them a thrill the week before, was conspicuous by his absence when the case that caused the fight was brought up for hearing.

The case concerned charges against Abe Spizel, 3517 W. 13th pl., who Mrs. Julia Jaskat, 6201 Sangamon st., alleged had attempted to attack her. Korshak, Spizel's counsel, accused Attorney Christopher of interfering with his cross examination of the complaining witness. Over that the fight started and Christopher suffered a blackened eye. The case was continued and both lawyers charged with contempt of court. The incident broke the monotony of the procedure for the court attaches and they looked forward to a repetition of the affair when the case was again called.

The whole affair, both the case against Spizel and those against the attorneys had a very peaceful aspect Thursday. States Attorney Christopher, after appearing for the opening of court, left. Attorney Korshak was late in arriving. Whether this was just a ruse to annoy the prosecutor was not made known. He was jovial and announced that he would let the case rest without resuming the cross examination that caused the fight.

Mrs. Jaskat had employed a lawyer during the continuance who advised her that there was insufficient evidence to secure a conviction of Spizel on her charges. On this advice she asked to have the case dismissed for want of prosecution.

In spite of Judge LeBuy's threats no formal charges of contempt had been held out against either of the lawyers.

OGDEN GIRLS PLACE IN FINALS OF O'LEARY

Miss Alice O'Rourke and Miss Gertrude Heck, both of Ogden park, took second and third places respectively in the finals of the south park O'Leary contests, which were held at Hamilton park Wednesday, August 27. Miss Goodman, from Hardin square won first place.

PARKS PREPARE FOR OPENING OF STADIUM

Ogden park will have the last community singing concert under the direction of Harry Barnhart of New York City Thursday evening as a final preparation for the group song festival which will feature the opening of the new $3,000,000 stadium in Grant park Wednesday evening, September 10, when 25,000 voices are expected to be heard. Response at Ogden park for previous concerts has been encouraging. At the last program George Miller and Mrs. Greenfield, as soloists, attracted attention.

Miss Lilen Warner, with groups of girls is busy each day at the park field house making lanterns for the parade which will be held in conjunction with the song festival. Representatives from the south parks and the public schools will take part in the lantern procession.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ford, 6601 Aberdeen st., are entertaining Miss Marie Philbin of Geneva, New York.

FORCIBLY PROTEST JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

against this policy of the Chicago school board. I've lived here twenty-five years and I'm in favor of them building a few more schools instead of taking children of intermediate grades to distant buildings."

Conditions at Harper school were denounced by the Rev. Henry Bergland, pastor of Bethel Baptist church, 65th and Paulina sts. "It is evident that the school is at present unprepared to receive pupils. It is neither a junior high school nor a grade school, owing to the change," said he.

Teachers Have Difficulties

Teachers at Harper were torn between the necessity of placating the crowd and conducting registration. They were the recipients of scores of complaints which they could do nothing to remedy. W. J. Harrower, the principal, chose an optimistic view of the situation.

"I am flattered to think the parents have such a high opinion of Harper that they demand to have the intermediate pupils remain here," was his only observation for the press. He estimated that between 300 and 400 pupils were registered Tuesday out of double that number who were eligible to attend the school.

The fight was started at an indignation meeting held under the auspices of the West Englewood Business District association and attended by more than five hundred parents of Harper school children at the Ogden Park Field House Friday night.

The audience voted unanimously to continue to sending their children to that school in spite of the orders from the Board of Education that they be transferred. They also promised unanimous support to the legal suit started by the West Englewood Lions club to secure an injunction.

J. F. Gonnelly, superintendent of the junior high schools, was the first speaker introduced by Frank McGarr, president of the West Englewood Business District association. Mr. Gonnelly pointed out the benefits of the junior high system, stating that in addition to giving the children the benefit of specialized instruction it helped them over the transition period into high school. In addition he stated that those that went to work upon completion of their regular grammar school course received the benefits of the study of a foreign language and science that under the present system they would not have. He also told of the success of the system in other cities.

Shout Down Speaker

Apparently he was not informed regarding the real reason for the indignation meeting. Accidently he mentioned the necessity of the children crossing street car tracks and boulevards to attend schools outside of their district and with that the audience broke into an uproar. Hand clapping, whistling and floor stamping lasted for several minutes before Mr. McGarr was able to restore order. Mr. Gonnelly explained that the board of education had thought best to remodel old buildings in order to innovate the system while there was interest in it rather than wait for at least two years until new buildings could be erected.

Speakers from the floor questioned Mr. Gonnelly as to why the new Henderson building had not been utilized for the purpose of a junior high school, since it was not overcrowded and, according to their statements, it had been built originally for a high school.

He denied that it had been intended for a high school and declared that this tall Henderson would be as crowded as others. The Harper school, he said, was chosen as it originally was but for a high school, but need for a grammar school made the board of education open it to those children in the first eight grades.

Then the question of children being forced to cross boulevards and street car tracks arose. Men all over the audience sprang to their feet and shouted that they would "never send our children out of the district."

Education or Broken Bones?

"Better a healthy child without education than one with broken bones," one man shouted and the audience shouted its applause. Another declared that the junior high school was merely a scheme to shunt the children into industry without sufficient education. This statement received much applause but some of the leaders at the meeting stated that the meeting should not be given to the discussion of whether or not such a system was right but rather to find some means to keep the children of the district at Harper.

A resolution was then formulated to be presented to the board voicing the people's protest and stating that they would continue to send their children to Harper.

Antagonism toward Mr. Gonnelly was dispelled when, as he left, Henry F. Bergen asked that a rising vote of thanks be given him for his appearance and statement of the board of education's side of the case.

Miss Haley Makes Attack

An attack was made against junior high schools by Miss Margaret Haley, business manager of the Chicago Teachers' Federation. Miss Haley declared that the junior high schools were an effort to cheat children out of sufficient education and to help bring about a lower standard of labor. In Rochester, she stated, where the junior high schools are considered to be very successful no senior high schools have been built for twenty years.

At the close of the meeting as the audience filed out, Dr. E. A. Perkins, who originally started the action against the board of education, told that the petition for the injunction would be at the Thoburn church Saturday evening and that all parents were asked to come and sign it. The cost of obtaining the injunction would be close to $1,000, he added, and although five men, whose names he did not divulge, had promised to defray the expense, those signing would be expected to bring $1 to aid the fund.

Effect Parker Change Quietly

Transfer of pupils from other schools to Parker junior high school was affected Tuesday afternoon without demonstrations against the change of the institution to one of the building in the junior high school system.

"Our new pupils were received under pleasant circumstances," was the statement made by W. R. Hatfield, principal, who estimates the junior high school enrollment September 2 at 750 and expects to see it reach the 800 mark.

Pupils were transferred to the institution from the Brownell school, 6509 Perry ave., the Yale, 7010 Yale ave., and the Kershaw, 6431 Union ave.

Enrollment in the Parker high and grade schools last year was 1,300 pupils. This year there are 750 in the junior high school, eighty in the kindergarten, and 720 in the first six grades.

No appointment has been made as yet of a grade school principal to assist Mr. Hatfield, who formerly was the head of both the Parker junior high and grammar schools.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dovorak, who for ten years resided at 7748 May st., have sold their residence to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenen, 47th st. and Wentworth ave., and now live at 857 W. Marquette rd. Sister Mary Mechtilde, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dovorak, stopped off last week to see her parents while on a trip to Chicago from Nauvoo, Ill. She returned Thursday. Accompanying her was Sister M. Benedicta of Winona, Ill. They belong to the Benedictine order.

QUILT MAKING NOT FORGOTTEN ART

Old-fashioned handicraft may not be popular with the majority of girls of the younger generation, but the needlework of our grandmothers is not a forgotten art. In fact, it is being revived under the title of "application of modern principles of design."

Ellen Smith, 17 years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, 7018 Green st., is an enthusiast for one type of needlework once very popular—quilt making.

At the Central States' exhibition, which closed Saturday, August 23, at Aurora, Ill., she was awarded the red ribbon, as first prize, for her quilt. Competing with twenty-seven entries, representing eight states, the girl took first place with her coverlet pieced in Cornucopia pattern in three shades of yellow, ranging from orange to a pale lemon, on a white background.

Miss Smith, who is a junior at Parker high school, studies designing at the Art Institute, where she has had her seven quilts on exhibition. Designing, cutting, joining, lining and hemming the coverlets herself, the girl hires the quilting done. She is not satisfied with the present number of her collection but plans to continue the work, entering her creations in other contests and placing them on exhibition at a later date.

This statement received much applause but some of the leaders at the meeting stated that the meeting should not be given to the discussion of whether or not such a system was right but rather to find some means to keep the children of the district at Harper.

A resolution was then formulated to be presented to the board voicing the people's protest and stating that they would continue to send their children to Harper.

Antagonism toward Mr. Gonnelly was dispelled when, as he left, Henry T. Bergen asked that a rising vote of thanks be given him for his appearance and statement of the board of education's side of the case.

Miss Haley Makes Attack

An attack was made against junior high schools by Miss Margaret Haley, business manager of the Chicago Teachers' Federation. Miss Haley declared that the junior high schools were an effort to cheat children out of sufficient education and to help bring about a lower standard of labor. In Rochester, she stated, where the junior high schools are considered to be very successful no senior high schools have been built for twenty years.

At the close of the meeting as the audience filed out, Dr. E. V. Perkins, who originally started the action against the board of education, told that the petition for the injunction would be at the Thoburn church Saturday evening and that all parents were asked to come and sign it. The cost of obtaining the injunction would be close to $1,000, he added, and although five men, whose names he did not divulge, had promised to defray the expense, those signing would be expected to bring $1 to aid the fund.

Effect Parker Change Quietly

Transfer of pupils from other schools to Parker junior high school was affected Tuesday afternoon without demonstrations against the change of the institution to one of the building in the junior high school system.

"Our new pupils were received under pleasant circumstances," was the statement made by W. R. Hatfield, principal, who estimates the junior high school enrollment September 2 at 750 and expects to see it reach the 800 mark.

Pupils were transferred to the institution from the Brownell school, 6509 Perry ave., the Yale, 7010 Yale ave., and the Kershaw, 6431 Union ave.

Enrollment in the Parker high and grade schools last year was 1,300 pupils. This year there are 750 in the junior high school, eighty in the kindergarten, and 720 in the first six grades.

No appointment has been made as yet of a grade school principal to assist Mr. Hatfield, who formerly was the head of both the Parker junior high and grammar schools.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dovorak, who for ten years resided at 7748 May st., have sold their residence to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenen, 47th st. and Wentworth ave., and now live at 857 W. Marquette rd. Sister Mary Mechtilde, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dovorak, stopped off last week to see her parents while on a trip to Chicago from Nauvoo, Ill. She returned Thursday. Accompanying her was Sister M. Benedicta of Winona, Ill. They belong to the Benedictine order.

Rapid Eating and Eating Improper Food Will Bring On Dyspepsia and Indigestion

Eat plenty of good, wholesome food and take a teaspoonful of Edlund's Stomach Remedy and say goodbye to your stomach troubles. Most people attempt to cure dyspepsia by limiting the food supply. There can be no greater mistake made than this. Good food, well selected and well cooked, suitable drink in suitable quantities, aided by Edlund's Stomach Remedy are the best of medicine. Dyspepsia is not cured by starving. Select food that agrees with you. Aim to have plenty of variety. Take plenty of outdoor exercise. Avoid the use of stimulants and take the medicine as directed and you will not be troubled any more with these ailments.

WHEN the Chiropractor, by scientific adjustment removes the pressure from the nerves and helps Nature to restore Health, the operation seems a simple one. Yet the knowledge is one that is gained only after a great deal of investigation, for Chiropractic is just as much a science and a profession that has to be learned as any other Health-method.

KNOWLEDGE OF SPINE AND NERVES

The Chiropractor must intimately know the body. He must know what nerves feed every organ and just where these nerves branch out from the spine, so that he can place his finger right on the point of pressure that is causing trouble in a certain part of the body.

Because of this expert knowledge of why he adjusts, where and how to do it, the Chiropractor can, by examining the spine, tell what is the trouble without a patient telling him anything. The spine is the key. Spinal pressure on a certain nerve leads to weakness and disease in a certain organ. That's why the Chiropractor adjusts a certain part of the spine to relieve headaches and another part of the spine for stomach or abdominal troubles, etc. In no drugs or knife are used. If you are not as well as you should be, have your spine adjusted and the cause of your troubles removed, so Nature can make you strong and healthy again. Information, or a spinal analysis, given without obligation. Investigate.

CHIROPRACTIC
THE BETTER WAY TO HEALTH
